Information for Students

Case Farms' Scholarship honors the legacy of a good friend and integral member of our family, J. Leroy Cook. Leroy helped Tom Shelton build Case Farms since our inception in 1987. He had tremendous operational experience that played an integral role in growing the company. This memorial scholarship is celebrating its 18th year and was discussed with Leroy before he passed away in February 2006.

We encourage Case Farms' team members and Growers' children who plan to continue their education to apply for the J. Leroy Cook Memorial Scholarship. The scholarships are offered each year for full-time study at an accredited institution of the student's choice and any major. Awards are granted regardless of race, color, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender, disability or national origin.

Eligibility

Applications will be accepted from any graduating high school senior OR a current university/college student planning to study in an accredited (a) four-year university OR (b) two-year college/technical school in the fall semester.

The eligible dependent must be a child (or step-child), age 25 or under, of a current full-time active Case Farms employee or Grower. Dependent children are biological, step- or legally adopted children living in the employee's household or primarily supported by the employee.

Award and Payment

If selected as a recipient, the student will receive $3,500 to attend a four-year university program or $1,500 to attend a two-year college/technical school. The scholarship will be a "one-time" payment made directly to the College or university the student has enrolled in and will attend for the fall semester. The award is contingent upon continued parental employment at check disbursement.
